CHEMIST TELLS OF HAIR TESTS IN SMITH CASE

Dr. Edward J. Burke, city chemist for the Philadelphia police department, testified this morning in the Elmo Smith murder trial here that Maryann Mitchell, from all indications of his tests, was not in the front seat of the 1958 Chevrolet believed to have been used by Smith.

Under cross-examination, however, Burke said his tests, from all indications, showed that Smith was never in the rear seat of the car.

Assistant District Attorney Vincent A. Cirillo submitted into evidence this morning hair found on the rear arm rest of the vehicle, hair from the head of Elmo Smith, from the head of Maryann Mitchell and taken off the jack found in the trunk of the car.

Three Types Of Hair

Dr. Burke testified that his tests showed three types of hair, depending on 10 or 12 characteristics. Under cross-examination, however, he said that hair is not classified like fingerprints, that it could belong to any number of people.

As for the fibers in the front seat, Burke said he "didn't look for fibers found in the car to match those of the defendant." He added that he was only trying to match the fibers with Maryann's clothing.

Station Worker Testifies

Wayne E. Mowery, gas station attendant in the Norrisstown area, testified that Smith drove into his station on the night of December 24 and ordered $2 worth of gasoline. When Smith asked the attendant on duty for a "wash job," Mowery said he "growled" because it was Christmas Eve and he didn't want to do any car washing.

But when Smith insisted that only the roof of the car be washed, Mowery agreed, he said.

Leon Webster Melchen, private handwriting analyst from Philadelphia, was expected to follow Mowery to the stand.

Atty. A. Richard Bixby, Norrisstown, was sitting in for the Montgomery County District Attorney Harold W. Spencer who was called to Philadelphia on business.

Two witnesses Friday gave testimony which the states contends links Elmo Smith with a stolen car used to abduct the girl he is accused of killing.

Dr. Edward J. Burke said that hairs found on the front seat of the stolen car, found near Smith's Bridgeport home, were similar to those of Smith.

Earlier, Mrs. Janet Bryson, 27, identified a watch Smith gave her last Dec. 27, the day after Maryann disappeared.

IKE, GUESTS INSPECT FARM

President Eisenhower, accompanied by his brother and sister-in-law, Atty. and Mrs. Edgar Eisenhower, Tacoma, Wash., flew to Gettysburg Friday afternoon in a helicopter for a brief visit at the chief executive's farm.

The President's copter dropped down on a field adjacent to his son's home, at one corner of the large farm, at 2:58 o'clock. The Presidential party visited with Lt. Col. and Mrs. John Eisenhower and their children until 3:35 o'clock when the entire party motored to the big farm for a tour of the property. Among the party was General Arthur S. Nevin, friend of the President and his farm supervisor.

After inspecting the property and cattle, the President and his guests returned to Washington.

Shortly after a reporter for The Gettysburg Times arrived at the main gate to the farm, scores of out-of-state cars started an almost steady procession around the farm, apparently unaware that the President was due to arrive but suspecting that "something was going to happen." State police had some difficulty keeping the road open.

On the way back to the White House the party stopped at Camp David in the Catoctin Mountains, a Presidential retreat not far from Gettysburg.

Driver Dozes At Wheel; Wrecks Car

Ronald Greenholtz, 26, Hanover, suffered lacerations of the face and his car was demolished when the vehicle ran off the East Berlin-New Oxford Rd., a tenth of a mile east of New Oxford, at 4:30 o'clock this morning.

State police said Greenholtz was driving west when he fell asleep and his car went off the road into a ditch. Damage to the demolished coupe was estimated at $700.

Greenholtz was removed in the New Oxford firemen's ambulance to the Hanover Hospital.

YOUTH MISSES DEATH BUT CAR IS DEMOLISHED

Lamar W. Verdier, 18, Orrtanna R. 1, narrowly escaped death Friday evening at 5:25 o'clock when his car smashed into a truck on Mt. Newman, 11 miles west of here on the Lincoln Highway.

State police said Verdier was driving west on the three-lane highway when he sought to pass a tractor-trailer operated by Paul E. Harris, 25, Pittsburgh.

Police believe Verdier may have been blinded by the sun. He misjudged the distance between his car and the truck, police said, and instead of successfully passing the big vehicle ahead, the side of Verdier's car caught the rear overhang of the trailer.

The impact ripped the right side off the car, smashed the windshield into splinters and stripped the roof back as though the vehicle had been a convertible. The front edge of the roof was pushed down against the back of the front seat.

Removed to the Warner Hospital in the Gettysburg ambulance, Verdier was found to be suffering only from lacerations of the forehead.

Damage to Verdier's 1953 automobile, which was demolished, was estimated at $600. Damage to the rear of the tractor-trailer was estimated at $900. Following the accident, the truck pulled off the side of the road while the wrecked car remained partially in the center lane and partially in the westbound lane of the highway.

Cashtown firemen washed glass and gasoline from the highway and directed one-way traffic around the scene until the wrecked auto could be moved.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL

OAS Ministers Search For Communist Denunciation Without Fingering Castro

By STANFORD BRADSHAW
SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Western Hemisphere foreign ministers haggled into the early morning hours over a resolution that would denounce Communist infiltration into Latin America without pointing an accusing finger at Fidel Castro's Cuba.

The compromise move came after the ministers of the Organization of American States split over U.S. demands that they condemn Castro's leftward march for piercing the wall of hemispheric solidarity against Communism.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter ran into opposition with some nations holding out for a watered-down resolution which would merely condemn "extra-continental intervention" without naming Castro's regime, the Soviet Union or Red China.

In an effort to heal the breach, a committee of foreign ministers was named to blend the conflicting views into a compromise resolution. It consists of representatives of Colombia, Costa Rica, Panama, Honduras, Mexico, Brazil, Uruguay, El Salvador and Argentina.

Chile was reported to have readied a compromise resolution that appeared to have majority support. It would condemn foreign intervention and reaffirm faith in the inter-American system.

There were also reports the final draft would include a Colombian proposal that a committee be formed to try to resolve Cuban-U.S. differences. It would also name Cuba's offer Thursday to negotiate with the United States.

The United States has made it plain it wants a resolution that would avoid highlighting its differences with Castro and concentrate

Police Duty Is Curtailed

Burgess Wilbur L. Plank announced today that special police officers who served in emergencies scheduled by the "administrative office" will be discontinued next Wednesday midnight.

Burgess Plank instructed Chief of Police Jack Bartlett to this effect in a letter dated Friday, August 26.

The Burgess also directed the police department to cover school crossings for Gettysburg High School pupils at Baltimore St. and Wainwright Ave., and at Broadway and Harrisburg St. for the Eisenhower School.

Plank said "an ordinance has not been enacted by council creating the school crossing guards which have been in existence for a number of years." Plank also directed that "no other school crossing will be covered by the police department until provided for by borough council."

GI Deserter Names Yank As Spy On Moscow TV Show

MOSCOW (AP)—An American GI deserter accused the U.S. Army of espionage activities in Moscow of espionage activities in what could foreshadow another Soviet ouster action.

The charges, against Col. Theodore F. Hoffman, were made by Vladimir Sloboda, 38, on Soviet TV Friday night only a few hours after the Soviet Union ordered expulsion of the U.S. embassy's economic attaché.

Soviet officials also charged the economic attaché, George Payne Winters Jr., 39, was involved in a spy ring.

Colonel's Reaction

Col. Hoffman, vacationing in West Germany, said "Are you kidding?" when informed of the charges leveled against him by Sloboda.

Hoffman said he planned to return to Moscow Sept. 4 after completing his vacation in Germany with his family.

Hoffman, whose home is in Pughtown, Pa., a former commander of the Army Intelligence School, Ft. Holabird, Md., went to Moscow about 1 1/2 years ago.

Sloboda deserts
Sloboda, who deserted a U.S. Army Intelligence unit in West Germany three weeks ago, charged American spies were sent to the Soviet Union disguised as tourists, members of official delegations and as diplomats.

The U.S. Army, in a statement from Heidelberg, Germany, this week said Sloboda was an obsessive gambler and was heavily in debt when he disappeared earlier this month. Sloboda's wife also said he had been losing heavily at gambling.

U. S. Breaks With Trujillo

WASHINGTON — The United States Friday, for the first time in peacetime history, severed diplomatic relations with a Latin American ally: the Dominican Republic.

A State Department announcement said the U. S. diplomatic mission in Ciudad Trujillo is being withdrawn and a request has been made for the immediate recall of the Dominican Republic mission here.

The action, the department said, was taken in accordance with "a resolution of the foreign ministers of the Organization of American States which called for sanctions against the dictatorship of Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo for 'acts of intervention' against Venezuela."

The Dominican Republic — which is allied to the United States under the Rio Pact of 1947 and which also has a mutual defense agreement with this country — will be permitted to keep consular officials here if the United States is accorded the same rights in Ciudad Trujillo.

SOLDIER FALLS FROM TRUCK; FATALITY HURT

A Boyer, W. Va., soldier stationed at Fort Ritchie, Md., was fatally injured Friday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock when he fell from an army truck on a back road about a mile south of Fountaindale.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said the soldier, Pvt. Jackie G. Moates, 21, suffered a fractured skull when he fell from the rear of the truck to the road.

State police, who investigated, said four soldiers were in the back of a stake-bodied truck operated by another soldier, Donald W. Way, of Mystic, Conn. All were stationed at Fort Ritchie.

Struck His Head

Police said one of the men reached for the collar of a dog the soldiers had with them and in doing so inadvertently jostled a soldier next to him. Private Moates, in back of that soldier, apparently stepped backward and fell from the rear of the truck.

Dr. Crist said the young soldier, who had recently moved to the Pen-Mar area after being wed four months ago, apparently landed on his head as he fell from the truck.

Dr. Crist added there will be no inquest into the fatality.

The body was released by the coroner to the Poe Funeral Home in Waynesboro.

FAMILY PICNIC FOR RUTITANS

The Hunterstown Ruritan Club held its annual family picnic Friday evening at the Ruritan Park at Hunterstown with 75 club members and their families in attendance, setting a new attendance mark for the event. There were games and prizes for the children.

President John K. Lott presided at a business meeting of the club which followed the picnic supper. Charles Brent, R. 4, was elected as a new member.

Treasurer Clarence Ford reported the club cleared $160 at a benefit donkey baseball game it sponsored several weeks ago at the Hunterstown Park. More than 300 attended the event, he said. Bills were approved for payment including a $100 payment on the bill for the drilling of a well at the park. The unpaid balance now stands at $190.

The club members voted to postpone its benefit auction, set for September 2, until a later date not yet decided upon.

It was announced that the club will entertain the Kaufman's Station Ruritan Club of Franklin County at its September 23 meeting at the Pines Church parish hall.

WAGAMAN GETS JAIL SENTENCE IN WORKHOUSE

Kenneth F. Wagaman, Gettysburg R. 3, who entered a plea of guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of two juvenile boys, aged 14 and 17, by providing them with beer, was sentenced by Judge Dale Shughart, of Carlisle, in Adams County court this morning, to fro 3 to 6 months in the Allegheny county workhouse beginning August 3, when Wagaman was originally lodged in the Adams County jail.

Mrs. Elsie F. Crawford, Hanover, who entered a plea of nolo contendere to a charge of driving while under the influence placed following an automobile accident in Midway, was sentenced to 15 days in jail and ordered to pay $50 for the use of the county and the costs. Judge Shughart said evidence submitted this morning indicated that a trial should be held rather than a plea entered, but Atty. Eugene Hartman after conferring with Mrs. Crawford said she wished her plea to continue because "the suspense would be worse than the sentence."

Joseph Clyde Kline, Fayetteville, charged with driving while his license was suspended, was given a suspended sentence, ordered to pay the costs and $250 for the use of the county. The court said that Governor Lawrence has asked the courts to impose a mandatory prison sentence in cases of driving during suspension. He added that he felt such sentences might be a way of breaking up driving after suspension but said that he would not begin such a custom today. He warned those who were appearing on the charge that if it happens again they can expect to go to jail.

Other Cases

Lary Lefler, 18, Fairfield R. 2, charged with hit and run driving, was given a suspended sentence and ordered to pay the costs and $100 for the use of the county.

viously identified the watch as one stolen from their Norristown home with two purses, a wallet and the car.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Vincent A. Cirillo of Montgomery County asked Mrs. Bryson, who is separated from her husband, how she got the watch.

"Elmo gave it to me for Christmas," she replied.

Briggs testified that the blood-stained bumper jack the state said was used to crack Maryann's skull is like the one he had in the car.

Mrs. Mitchell, seated in the front row behind her husband, only a few feet from Smith at the defense table, sobbed as Burke pointed out the bloodstains on the clothing worn by her daughter.

Charles N. Gorman, another witness, said the night Maryann disappeared he noticed a man in a car similar to the Briggs car parked near the spot where the body was found. Cirillo did not ask him whether Smith resembled the man.

Judge W. C. Sheely ordered a Saturday session.

He said he wants to try the case as quickly as possible. He also noted that the jury would have to be kept over the weekend in any case.

$150 for use of the county.

John W. Naugle, Pittston, charged with violation of the uniform firearms act by carrying a .25 calibre automatic pistol in the glove compartment of his car without a permit, was ordered to pay the costs and a $50 fine. The weapon was confiscated.

Donald R. Harrison, Glen Ridge, Pa., and John R. Long, Greenville, Del., both 20 years of age, were each fined on charges of obscene writing on a public billboard.

Long was also fined on a malicious mischief charge. The mischief charge against Harrison was nolle prossed at the same time. State Trooper Charles J. Todd said the two young college students had gone to a New Oxford area tavern to celebrate passing an exam, had then started to walk home early in the morning and, passing the Cross Keys Drive-in Theater, changed the reading on the sign advertising a movie, then continued walking. Long tripped over an ornamental swan and picking it up hurled it through a plate glass window. Several miles further they fell asleep on a lawn where they were found by the officer who said both admitted the actions and expressed regret. The court fined Harrison $50 and Long $75 and ordered them to pay the costs. The court was told that the broken window had been paid for.

NEW YORK (AP)—"The Absence of Cello," a favorably received novel about a thermonuclear scientist being interviewed by a representative of a large industry, is being dramatized by its author, Ira Wallach.

It had been noted that one section of the book was virtually a ready-made play, and Wallach has since admitted he first wrote this portion as a play.

Nonwork accidents, a major boobytrap for Americans, were cited recently by the National Safety Council as a "veritable Fifth Column in our midst."

The council, a nongovernmental agency founded in 1913 to prevent all kinds of accidents, said reducing the non-work accident toll is the "No. 1 challenge to safety in the 60's."

The council, meanwhile, announced a continuing campaign aimed at keeping Americans safe around the clock. The campaign goal: "Safety . . . Everywhere . . . All The Time." The council said the campaign is designed to promote safety on the job as well as off.

What are the facts about this "Fifth Column?"

1. Nonwork accidents — those occurring in the home, on the highway and in public places — account for about 6 out of 7 accidental deaths in the United States. The toll in 1959 was 77,200 nonwork accidental deaths of workers and members of their families, 13,800 deaths in work accidents. This means nonwork accidents took about six times as many lives as work accidents.

2. Home accidents alone brought death to 26,000 persons last year. Nearly 1 out of 4 victims was a child under 5 years of age, and about 1 out of 2 victims was more than 65 years old.

3. In public places, drownings, including boat accidents, killed 5,300 persons last year. Air transport accidents involving all kinds of aircraft killed 1,200. Firearms took 900 lives. Falls claimed 3,600 victims.

4. Workers suffered 2,250,000 disabling injuries off the job in 1959 as compared with 1,950,000 disabling injuries on the job.

5. The cost of off-the-job accidents to industry was 550 million dollars in 1959 — and three billion dollars to workers and their families.

The council, which emphasized its belief that accidents of any kind can be prevented if enough people really want to prevent them, cites such facts as these to back up its belief:

1. Industries that are members of the council have cut their work injury rates to workers on the job by more than half in the last 25 years.

2. E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., which has an occupational accident rate among the lowest in industry, launched an off-the-job safety program for employees. In five years, off-the-job accidents were cut by a third. Today, the off-job accident time loss of Du Pont employees is only a third that of the nation's workers generally.

"The record for motor vehicle fatalities to Du Pont employees is even more remarkable," said the council. "The toll was reduced 45 per cent in the five years mentioned, and today is only an eighth the rate for all U.S. workers."

"The on-the-job accident rate to Du Pont workers, already very low, came down by 50 per cent."

"The council believes all accident prevention activities are related, and that the things that help prevent accidents on the job can help keep Americans safe off the job — and vice versa."

"Our 'Safety . . . Everywhere . . . All The Time' campaign is based on the belief that safety shouldn't be left behind at the factory gate. A worker injured off the job is just as lost to industry as if the accident had occurred at a machine."

ON INVESTING
I would not give much for the man or woman who didn't make a practice of saving. I would not apply this solely to money though. I recently read of a man who died in my city who left a fortune in the millions, but I had never heard his name before. I doubt whether any excepting his closest acquaintances had either. He had saved a large sum, largely through investing.

But I have in my library the wonderful thoughts of a man—yes, dozens of them—who did so poor in money that you couldn't buy many potatoes today with what he left. But, O how rich he was! He invested all that he was and had—in ideas. And the dividends go into my brain—and yours. Wouldn't this be a sordid, poverty-stricken world without such as Emerson, Whitman, Stevenson, Twain, Shakespeare, Browning, Thoreau, Hudson, and such kindred fortune-builders?

The greatest investment in the world is to put something back into the world! And that means doing something for human beings. But don't expect to get ALL your dividends at once—leave that to the quality of what you are and do. But keep investing.

The only success worth going after is what you do for other people. The more you learn, the more intelligent you become, the more able are you to give—by investing. And the larger the returns to you—through others.

It is an inspiring thing to live with the knowledge that your ideas are entering the lives of many all the time—and that, in turn, they then enter the lives of still others by a never-ending chain process which we know as influence—and which itself has no end.

Do handsome things. Invest something every day in somebody else's happiness!

MONEY
I'd hate to think so much of gold
That I would sell myself to gain it.
I'd hate the sound of metal cold
If I must shamefully attain it.
I'd hate to be so much a slave
To minted silver, gold and copper,
That I'd forget in moments grave
To do the decent thing and proper.

I'd like to live a life of ease
And tread a pathway always sunny,
But I'd not worship on my knees
The golden idol known as Money.
A man of wealth I'd like to be,
But I would rather dig in ditches
Than ever have it said of me
I'd sold my self-respect for riches.

20 MEN BEAT WHITE HEAD OF NEGRO SCHOOL

UNION, Miss. (AP)—A 47-year-old white president of a controversial Negro ministerial college near here claims a group of 20 white men kicked, clubbed and beat him Friday, and later threatened to kill him if he talked about the incident.

The Rev. J. H. Germany, preacher and dairy farmer, reportedly suffered cuts on his face, bruises on both his head and face and marks on his ribs and back.

The minister said he recognized several of the white men as members of the Citizens Council, proponents of segregation.

Germany said he was attacked on the grounds of a public school which was being demolished. Four Negroes were with Germany at the time, but were not attacked, according to the minister. He said the Negroes were run off "at the threat of their lives."

Reports To Paper
The minister said six of the 20 men began taking turns kicking him in the ribs and back, hitting him with their fists and beating him with a club.

One of them was quoted by the minister as saying "This is a sample of what you'll get if the Meridian Star finds out about this. You'll never live to read it."

The Star is a daily newspaper in a nearby city. Germany told his story to this newspaper shortly after the incident.

Germany said the incident did not deter him from making plans to open the Bay Ridge Christian College near here. The college, now under construction at the minister's farm, will be a Negro training institution for the ministry.

KENNEDY RESTS FOR CAMPAIGN
HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy is spending a long weekend at his summer home, stockpiling energy and ideas for the strenuous presidential campaign he opens formally a week from today.

The Democratic nominee for the White House flew to Cape Cod from Washington Friday night and plans to remain until Monday. He was accompanied by his brother Robert, manager of the Kennedy campaign, and several members of his staff. Mrs. Kennedy already was here.

The weekend was billed primarily as a let-up period in which aides said there would be no visitors on political business.

The Massachusetts senator spent three weeks here after he won the presidential nomination at the Democratic National Convention last month. While he did get in some relaxation, mainly boating and swimming from his family's 53-foot motor launch, he also put in plenty of hard licks during political strategy conferences with key Democrats.

Kennedy leaves here Monday, goes to Boston to attend a private fund-raising luncheon then returns to Washington.

Reach Polio Peak In Somerset County

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—A siege of polio in Somerset County has reached its peak, says a state health officer.

"I think the worst is over; there have been no recent new cases reported in the county," Dr. J. M. James of Hooversville said Friday.

The county has reported 10 confirmed or suspected cases of polio this year. Six of these cases came this month. In addition, one child suspected of suffering from polio has died.

James said he never felt that polio had reached epidemic stages. But as a precautionary measure, the county's medical society is establishing its first clinic for free Salk anti-polio vaccine shots, James added. He said youngsters will receive the vaccine through the State Dept. of Health.

Two neighboring counties, Indiana and Cambria, have had two cases each.

FINE SUSPECT IN BIG THEFT
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A defendant in the Pennsylvania Rich burglary has been fined $150 here for assault and battery on a woman.

The fine was imposed on Ralph Staino Jr., 27, of Philadelphia, by Municipal Court Judge Stephen A. Damico Friday.

Staino and Miss Lillian Reis, 30, also a defendant in the Rich case, were charged with the beating of Miss Virginia Chiucarelli, 24, Philadelphia, outside of the Escort Bar here last month.

The charge against Miss Reis was dropped for lack of evidence. Miss Reis, owner of a Philadelphia night club which Staino is floor manager, Staino, and four others are defendants in the burglary of cash and jewels from the home of John Rich in Pottsville, Pa.

One of the defendants, Vincent Blakey, 27, disappeared three weeks ago, soon after police said he had agreed to give evidence in the case.

A decomposed body in chains taken from the sea off nearby Margate Tuesday has been tentatively identified as that of Blakey. Another defendant who agreed to give evidence, Robert Poulson, was stabbed and shot two weeks ago in Camden, but recovered.

Miss Chiucarelli told the court here she was in the Escort Bar waiting for friends when Staino made a pass at her. She testified she slapped him after which both Staino and Miss Reis hit her. Staino followed her outside the club and beat and kicked her, she said.

Mrs. Nixon Cancels Pittsburgh Trip
PITTSBURGH (AP)—The wife of Vice President Richard M. Nixon has called off a planned visit to Pittsburgh next Thursday so she can accompany him on his campaign tour.

"Her representatives called us from Washington and begged off coming and we agreed," Edward L. Flaherty, Allegheny County Republican executive committee chairman, said Friday.

Women's Committee Of 100 Plan Civil War Programs

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The core of a nation women's committee of 100, to be made up eventually of two members from each state, has been named to plan and carry out a full nationwide program of observances marking the part played by women during the Civil War.

Announcement of initial members of this group that will head up the nation's tribute to the unsung female heroes of its great struggle for survival was made by Miss Chloe Gifford, former president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. She was chosen by the National Civil War Centennial Commission last spring to direct the women's observance of the forthcoming five-year series of commemorative programs.

Some Members Chosen
Members already chosen for the committee are Miss Bertha S. Adkins, under secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D. C.; the Honorable Margaret Stitt Church, congresswoman of Illinois; Mrs. Spessard Holland, wife of the senior senator from Florida; Miss Mary Elizabeth Massey, Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C., author and leading authority on the subject of women during the Civil War, and Miss Margaret Rawl, Washington, D. C., an official of the General Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

In making her announcement, Miss Gifford reminded that the women of America want to have "a very definite part" in the forthcoming Civil War Centennial.

"Many of us remember sitting at the knee of a fond grandfather or a favorite uncle and listening to them, for hours at a time, as they related stories that dealt with the deeds of bravery and heroism of our soldiers during these perilous years. Now we want to tell the stories of our grandmothers and grandaunts who shouldered their part of the burden while their menfolk were off fighting a war."

No Bitterness
"We shall not relive the conflict in bitterness, but in such a manner that will give us an awareness of its depth and meaning, for out of it has emerged the greatest nation on earth."

One of the first projects to be undertaken by the committee of 100 will be that of raising more than $200,000 needed to restore the "Constellation," the first ship ever launched by the American Navy and oldest fighting vessel still afloat, so that it can serve as the centennial flagship. Plans call for this veteran of every war the nation has engaged in since she was launched in 1797 to be towed for public display during the commemorative years to every major port along the coast and inland waters. Now docked at Baltimore undergoing repair, other exhibits of the Civil War she will be filled with relics and period.

More than $125,000 already has gone into the ship's restoration since work was started on her several months ago. Miss Gifford said appropriate quotas will be announced for each state in the hope that the goal can be reached in time for the "Constellation" to take part next April in commemorative ceremonies marking the centennial at Charleston, S. C., of the firing on Fort Sumter.

The chairman suggested the following beginning steps for chairmen who soon will be named in each state to carry out the work of the committee:

1. Form a statewide committee composed of at least one outstanding member of each woman's organization in the state.
2. Explain and publicize in detail the particular participation in the centennial planned for the state.
3. Prepare with the aid of a competent historian a list of women from the state who made substantial contributions to the war effort.
4. Plan fitting programs by which to honor properly the memory of these women.
5. Work closely with the state centennial commission, coordinating all plans with the statewide program.

Lone Woman In Musical Cast
NEW YORK (AP)—"Irma La Douce," the London and Paris musical hit, will open at the Plymouth Theatre Sept. 29 with Elizabeth Seal as the only woman in the cast.

She starred in the role for two years in the London production, which is still running, as well as in the Paris production. Miss Seal plays the part of a woman of the streets. She's surrounded by men—15, to be exact.

TWO KILLED IN HEAD-ON CRASH

COLUMBIA, Pa. (AP)—Two cars slammed headon Friday night at the approach to the York-Lancaster intercounty bridge killing both drivers and injuring four other persons.

Charles E. Creek, 38, of Columbia, and Paul D. Sload, 52, of Wrightsville R. 1, died at the scene.

Three hitchhikers riding with Creek were injured and Sload's wife, Ruth, 57, was listed in critical condition at Columbia Hospital.

Police said one of the hitchhiker told them Creek picked them up just before the accident, talked in a confused manner and raced his car up to 80 miles an hour, losing control on a curve and veering in to the oncoming lane and Sload's car.

The hitchhikers, all from Wrightsville, were Fred Dellinger, 16, Tim Wallace, 14, and Donald Knab, 19.

SOUTH GREET'S RICHARD NIXON
By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—Enthused by crowds that greeted him on his second Southern campaign trip, Vice President Richard M. Nixon says he thinks the Democratic ticket is in real trouble in the South.

The Democrats "no longer can consider any Southern state safe," he added.

The presidential campaign is only a few weeks old, but already Nixon has shattered a political tradition.

Since reconstruction days, the belief has been that the deep South is barren, dismal ground for Republican presidential candidates. With the exception of Dwight D. Eisenhower, who campaigned in Alabama and Georgia in 1952, Republican candidates have concentrated their fire where the prospects looked much better.

But Nixon has invaded the South twice. Last week he was in Greensboro, N.C., and Friday he plunged farther south, with these results:

Pitching—Ernie Broglio, Cards, allowed four hits, walked one and struck out four for 3-1 victory over league leading Pirates.

Hitting—Yogi Berra, Yankees, belted a pair of home runs with his second winning opener in 11th inning as Yanks retained first place with 7-6 and 7-5 twin-night sweep over Indians.

U. S. WRESTLER HOLDS RED TO UPSET DRAW

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor
ROME (AP)—America's Richard Wilson, a Greco-Roman fly-weight wrestler, held world champion Ivan Kocerin of the Soviet Union to a stunning draw today as the second full day of the 17th Olympic Games opened with a liberal test of strength between the United States and the powerful Soviets.

But American women divers, "Maybe a little bit" too confident faced failure in 3-meter spring-board diving, an event the United States has won eight out of eight times in the Olympics.

Ingrid Kramer, a shapely blonde from Germany, led the way into the afternoon finals of the event as Paula Jean Pope, 1956 bronze medalist in platform diving, and U.S. team mate Patsy Willard were well off the pace with only three dives remaining.

Miss Kramer increased her first round lead with three graceful efforts that boosted her point total to 96.38. Mrs. Pope, of Santa Ana, Calif., second after Friday's opening four dives, dropped to fourth at 90.02. Miss Willard, of Mesa, Ariz., was seventh among the eight who qualified for the finals with 88.78.

The men's 3-meter diving competition also opened today with Sam Hall of Dayton, Ohio, and Gary Tobian of Glendale, Calif., representing the United States.

Other swimming events on the day's schedule were the men's 400-meter medley relay heats, men's 100-meter freestyle final, women's 100-meter freestyle semifinals and women's 200-meter breaststroke final.

U.S. Cagers Vs. Japan
The U.S. basketball team faced Japan in continuation of the first round of eliminations. Yugoslavia eliminated France 62-61 in a morning game.

In water polo, the Soviets defeated Argentina 7-4. Canoeist Paul Beauchamp of Washington, D.C., finished fifth in his semifinal heat and was eliminated from the men's 1,000-meter kayak singles.

Wilson, a 114-pounder from Toledo, Ohio, surprised the Russian in a second round match. The result followed Wilson's loss of Friday to D. Pireulescu of Romania. Another loss would have meant elimination for Wilson.

Wins Second Match
Larry Allen, Portland, Ore., featherweight won his second consecutive Greco-Roman match, but heavyweight Dale Lewis of Milwaukee, Wis., lost a first round decision.

Miss Kramer's trainer, Evelyne Sibinski, is confident her protegee will win the women's 3-meter diving. Asked if she thought the American divers were overconfident, Miss Sibinski smiled and said, "maybe a little bit."

But Mrs. Pope said, "I'm not worried. I still have a good chance although I went down two notches to fourth place."

"Ingrid has more difficult dives than her opposition," Miss Sibinski said, "and I'm sure she can increase her lead on the optional dives if she performs normally."

BONANZA FAN
WINS $11,422

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va.—A Shenandoah Downs race fan is $11,000 richer today and an unidentified banker probably has checked in $11,422.20, most of it in $100 bills. That was the amount paid in last night's Big Bonanza to the fan who tagged six straight winners in the pool. Nine fans had five correct selections to earn $533.80 as their share of the $18,974 pool.

A field of tough young horses go postward tonight in the Doughboy Pursue, feature of one of the best cards offered at the night track's summer meeting.

Randolph D. Rouse's Sky Point, an invader from Delaware Park, where he beat the top-priced claimers, heads the field, but will find plenty of competition from a couple of local stars. Not the least of these is Allen B. Hummer's Kiper who is undefeated at this meeting, and James P. Adams' Qubit, who has four victories here.

Routers will get their chance also on the cards, with eight slated to meet the starter in the one mile and five-eighths Shenandoah Marathon Handicap, fourth race in the distance series.

The explosion was only a block from the site of a blast last Monday night.

Play For Pony
Pennant Tonight

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—West Covina, Calif., and Oak Park, Ill., clash tonight for the 1960 Pony League Baseball World Series title.

West Covina squeezed by Houston, Tex., 5-4 in a semi-final game Friday night by scoring two runs in the fourth inning on a freak play.

Houston catcher Bob Diamond, on a routine throw back to the mound, tossed the ball over the pitcher's head into centerfield, allowing West Covina runners to score from second and third base. The tallies gave the winners a 5-4 lead.

Oak Park drew a bye in Friday's round.

DONORA FANS
LIKE BUGS, NOT STAN'S HOMER

By CHUCK CAPALDO
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan Musial's friends in his hometown of Donora, Pa., near Pittsburgh, aren't going to like this at all.

Musial, off stride and off balance his first three times up Friday night, belted a two-strike two-run homer off Bob Friend on his fourth appearance to lift the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3-1 victory over the Pirates.

It was Stan's first homer since Aug. 11 when he also hit one with one aboard to edge Friend and Pirates 3-2 in 12 innings.

Like The Pirates
"You know," Musial mused, "after I hit that one in Pittsburgh I went home to Donora for a visit. Everyone asked me, 'Why'd you have to hit?' They really like the Pirates."

Ernie Broglio, who celebrates his 25th birthday today, benefited from both of Musial's pokes. Broglio, now 16-6, gave the Pirates only eight hits in the 12-inning battle at Pittsburgh. Friday night he surrendered only four. He now has beaten the National League leaders three times this season without a loss.

In his last 21 innings against Pittsburgh the swarthy right-hander has walked only one man. "I didn't think I had good stuff at all for the first four or five innings," Broglio said as he savored his 11th victory in his last 13 decisions.

Asked if he thought the Redbirds still had a chance to overtake the pennant-minded Bucs, Broglio replied:

"We'll give them a battle down to the wire, but I really think it would take a miracle. They have too big a lead right now and have too many good men."

St. Louis, in third place, trails the Bucs by 7½ games.

LITTLE LEAGUE
WORLD SERIES
ON TV TODAY

By FRED B. WALTERS
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Fourteen kids will rub Aladdin's magic lamp today.

The genie that comes forth will bring them fame, adulation and a big silver cup that identifies them as champions of the 1960 Little League World Series—kings of midget baseball players, the envy of 11 and 12-year-old boys wherever the game is played.

The 14th annual series—a week-long event that brought together eight teams from regional tournaments around the world—concludes with Levittown, Pa., and Fort Worth, Tex., meeting for the championship.

On ABC-TV
The pomp and splendor, as well as the action, at the championship game will be televised nationally (ABC, 2 p.m., EDT).

About 10,000 persons also will be on hand at Howard J. Lamade Memorial Field, a beautiful park carved out of the side of Bald Eagle Mountain.

All 14 members of each team expressed confidence.

Both Confident
"We're not cocky, but we're confident," said Roger Witt, a coach of the Levittown team from suburban Philadelphia.

"Are we going to win?" A Texas rector asked the Fort Worth boys after a workout yesterday. "Yes," answered the team in chorus.

Both groups held final workouts Friday, followed by brief drills this morning.

Starts Ace
Levittown will start Joe Mormello Jr., who has pitched 6 of their 12 tournament victories, including the opening series game against Pearl Harbor. Fort Worth will use Jim Williams, who beat Toronto in the opening round and has five other tournament wins.

The Texas boys are a more mature, bigger, more serious-minded group than the Pennsylvanians. Their strength is a smooth defense that has committed no errors so far in the series.

NOVICE FACES
FORMER CHAMP
FOR TEE TITLE

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A confident former champion and a Chanute, Kan., school teacher playing in her first major tournament battle today for the National Women's Amateur Golf Championship.

The finalists, both 21, are JoAnne Gunderson of Kirland, Wash., the 1957 titleholder and veteran of twilight competition, and slim Jean Ashley.

Miss Gunderson lived up to her advance billing as a possible winner by beating Judy Elder of Old Hickory, Tenn., 2-up, using her strong tee power to good advantage on the three tough finishing holes over the 6,150-yard Tulsa Country Club course.

Beats Host
The layout plays to a pair of 35-36-71 and Miss Gunderson was only three over par with a 74 to sideline her companion throughout the summer. Miss Gunderson has been the house guest at Miss Elder's home.

Miss Ashley, who admitted that she would have been "tickled to death" just to get to the quarter-finals of her first United States Golf Assn. championship, held on tenaciously to sideline 38-year-old veteran Mrs. Ann Casey Johnson, Mason City, Iowa, 1-up.

The affable Kansan became a crowd favorite and a solid dark horse when she eliminated veteran Curtis Copper Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., 1-up in 21 holes in the fourth round. She added to her prestige with a 1-up victory over defending champion Barbara McIntire in the quarterfinals.

Two Accused Of Stealing Narcotics

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A male nurse and another man have been charged with stealing narcotics from the operating room of Graduate Hospital.

Police Capt. Clarence Ferguson said the nurse, Melvin Woods, 28, had taken a bottle of cocaine worth $1,000 from the hospital. He said the narcotic was found hidden in a flashlight in the glove compartment of a car driven by Oswald Nance, 29.

"This stuff has been stolen from where it was needed most," Ferguson told Magistrate Vincent Dean at a hearing for the two Friday. "They were stealing from the sick to sell to addicts."

Ferguson asked high bail. Dean set it at $10,000 for each man.

The Senate Select Committee on National Water Resources predicts there will be 47 million sports fishermen by 1980.

YANKEES AND ORIOLES COP
DOUBLE BILLS

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees have blasted off on that make-or-break weekend in the American League pennant race, rolling a pair of sevens—seven home runs and seven shutout innings of relief help—while putting away the first of three consecutive doubleheaders.

But while they tagged Cleveland 7-6, in 11 innings, and 7-5 (another pair of sevens) at Yankee Stadium Friday night, they couldn't shake free from the pursuing Baltimore Orioles. The Bay Birds stayed just a game behind by sweeping Kansas City 2-1 and 11-3.

Third place Chicago belted Boston 9-2, but the White Sox lost a half-game and now trail by two. Boston also lost Ted Williams indefinitely. The Big Guy, hounded by injury throughout his brilliant career, strained his left shoulder on a first-inning swing.

Senators Beat Tigers
Washington tightened its grip on fourth place in the AL by beating Detroit 5-4.

The Yankees came from behind in both games. They unloaded five home runs in the opener, with Yogi Berra's second of the game, beating reliever Larry Locke (1-4). Duke Maas and Luis Arroyo blanked the Indians over the last three frames. Arroyo was the winner for a 2-0 record. Mickey Mantle, hitting 30 for the sixth consecutive year; Elston Howard, and Bill Skowron, who also powered one in the nightcap, crashed the other home runs.

Three-Run Homer
In the second game, Bob Cerv overhauled a 2-0 Cleveland lead with a three-run homer in the fourth inning. And when they blew that edge, the Yanks bounced back again with a pair of unearned runs in the seventh when second baseman Ken Aspromonte threw wild trying to nail the tying run at the plate. Then Skowron iced it with home run No. 25, his one-season high.

All three runs came home on sacrifice flies in the opener at Baltimore. Marv Breeding brought in the clincher in the ninth, off Ned Garver (1-7), after a single by Gus Triandos and a pinch-double by Gene Woodling. Lefty Steve Barber won his ninth, giving up just four hits and striking out eight. The Birds then rocked loser Bud Daley (13-12) and three relievers for 16 hits in the nightcap while Hoyt Wilhelm won his 10th with six innings of one-hit, shutout relief.

Hurls 7-Hitter
Southpaw Frank Baumann beat his ex-mates with a seven-hit bid for a 9-5 record with the White Sox. Earl Wilson (2-2) was the loser as Chicago collected a dozen hits, six of them doubles. Luis Aparicio drove in three runs with a sacrifice fly and a double, and Jim Landis counted two with three hits in five trips.

Jim Lemon's 30th home run cracked a six-inning tie for the Senators after Detroit had scored four runs in the first two innings. Pete Ramos (10-13) went all the way, giving up 10 hits. Jim Bunning (8-10) was the loser as the Tigers dropped their third in a row—after winning seven straight.

PALMER AND
HAWKINS TIED IN GOLF MATCH

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP)—Arnold Palmer, golf's leading money winner, shared the lead today with two other money-wise pros, Fred Hawkins and Ken Venturi, at the halfway mark of the $30,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament.

Palmer and Hawkins fired brilliant five-under-par 65s over the North Hills Country Club course Friday. Venturi coupled his first day's 65 with a 69 to knot the three at 134 for 36 holes in the 72-hole tournament.

Palmer, who counts the Masters and National Open among his seven tournament wins this year, served notice that he is out to add the $4,500 top money to his 1960 tournament earnings of $73,586.

Five Under Par
The 29-year-old Latrobe, Pa., pro toured the first nine with a five-under-par 30 Friday, then ran into trouble coming in.

He picked up bogies on the 11th and 13th holes, equalled par from the 14th through the 17th and then closed in spectacular fashion, sinking a 40-foot putt for an eagle 3 on the 530-yard 18th.

Keeping pace with Palmer were a couple of big money winners who haven't had much success scoring victories. Hawkins, a 36-year-old veteran from El Paso, Tex., has won only one PGA co-sponsored tournament since joining the tour in 1947. Venturi has captured just one event this season.

Has $37,500 Winnings
However, Venturi has overall winnings of more than $37,500, while Hawkins has walked off with more than $21,000—the amount he has averaged annually since 1953.

Just one stroke off the pace with 66-69-135 was Bob Goalby, the former University of Illinois football player.

Mason Rudolph was alone with 136, while another stroke back were Bruce Crampton, the former Australian and Far East Open champion; and Johnny Pot of Shreveport, La., who shared the first round lead with Doug Ford and Venturi.

SENIOR GOLF
DOWN TO FOUR

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—John H. Roberts of Chicago, William Diddel of Carmel, Ind., Ted Payseur of Evanston, Ill., and Harry Strasburger of Coffeyville, Kan., were today's semifinalists in the World Seniors Golf Tournament.

Roberts squared off against Diddel in one semifinal scrap and Payseur faced Harry Strasburger in the other.

Roberts turned in the tourney's No. 1 upset Friday by downing co-favorite E. J. Rogers of Oklahoma City 3 and 2. Diddel defeated Dick Toney of Piedmont, Mo., 3 and 1. Payseur, former NCAA golf executive and athletic director at Northwestern University, turned back A. J. Ruffini of Cleveland 3 and 2.

Strasburger won by default from Paul Dickinson of Ardmore, Okla. Dickinson developed sore muscles in his back after his third round victory Thursday.

The minimum age for the tourney is 55.

RED ATHLETES
CREATE GIANT
GUESSING GAME

By WILL GRIMSLEY

ROME (AP)—Soviet athletes are putting a thaw on the cold war by warming up to rival Americans in the Olympic Games—and they're creating a giant guessing game.

Are the Russians really sincere or is this just another of their old propaganda gimmicks? "I'm convinced it's strictly on the level," said Kenneth (Tug) Wilson, president of the U.S. Olympic Committee, today. "Most of this camaraderie started at the track and field level, where the teams are very close."

Mutual Respect
"I see no propaganda implications, I think it's just a matter of mutual respect on both sides."

Another Olympic official, who preferred not to be identified, said certainly the Russians were playing all the propaganda angles but nothing could be done about it.

"Whether it's sports or politics, these people have the greatest public relations machine I've ever seen," the official said. "I think their athletes are great guys and gals. But these repeated manifestations of friendship—they must be dictated from a higher level."

Bosses Rrant
While Premier Khrushchev rants at President Eisenhower and the Soviet newspapers blare out stories of hidden spies and espionage, the Russian sportsmen have sounded an entirely different note in these 17th Olympic games.

The latest episode occurred Friday when the Soviet track and field team asked permission to work out with the Americans at the Aqua Acetosa practice field.

The day before that, the Russians, after making a formal request through channels, paid a visit to the American quarters in the Olympic Village. There members of the two most powerful competing nations swapped gifts, warm handshakes and small talk—through interpreters.

Not All Formal
The fraternization hasn't been entirely formal. Boys and girls of the rival nations have been dancing cheek-to-cheek in the village snack bar. Fencers have jabbed foils at each other—in friendly practice—and the boxers have shared the same warmup area.

A romance may have pierced the Iron Curtain, although this could be one-sided. A pretty blonde U.S. gymnast, Doris Fuchs of Rochester, N.Y., admitted she is "stuck" on Boris Nikonorov, a Soviet boxer, but Nikonorov for the public record, at least—isn't sure.

"The Russians have initiated most of these get-togethers," said Arthur Lentz, U.S. press chief. "They certainly are pushing it."

RACER CRASHES,
KILLS WATCHER

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—An auto racer—watching from the sidelines—was killed and four other spectators injured Friday night when a stock car crashed over a retaining wall at a Fresno track.

The car, hit by another racer, swerved broadside out of control and flipped onto Ray Albert, 30, of San Jose, who raced under the name of Ray Darney.

The driver of the stock car, J. C. Walkingstick of Fresno, was unhurt.

Four racing officials, all of Fresno, were injured as they stood near Albert on a ramp near bleachers at the southeast corner of the Kearny Bowl race track.

Hal Jones slammed his 33rd home run of the season to high-light the Reading attack. In all, Jones drove in three runs. Carl Boles had a home run, two triples and a single for Springfield, scoring all the losers' runs.

Clouts 33rd Homer
Gill gave up five hits and struck out seven while Fields' broken bat single drove in the winning run in the eighth inning to break up a 2-2 tie. Fields had figured in one of Williamsport's earlier runs.

STAN MUSIAL,
SPAHN CLOUT
HOMER TO WIN

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Stan Musial and Warren Spahn, two 39-year-old guys who ain't done yet, are making a race of the run-away in the National League pennant chase.

With Stan the Man socking his 425th home run and breaking a 1-1 tie, the St. Louis Cardinals rapped first place Pittsburgh 3-1 Friday night. Spahn, striking out 11 for his 283rd victory, then broke up a 2-2 game with a home run that gave second place Milwaukee a 3-2 decision at San Francisco and moved the Braves within 5½ games of the Pirates.

Los Angeles swept Cincinnati in a twi-night pair, 10-1 and 2-0. And Philadelphia beat the Chicago Cubs 4-2.

Clouts 13th Homer
Musial's 13th home run of the year, coming with a man on in the seventh inning, beat Bob Friend (13-11) and backed a four-hit pitching job by Ernie Broglio (16-6) that sent the Bucs to their second straight loss. It was Musial's first home run since he walloped a two-run shot that beat Friend on Aug. 11. This one tagged Friend with his second defeat in a row. The big right-hander now has won only two of his last seven decisions, and just four of his last 12.

Broglio, the first to win 16 for the Cards since Harvey Haddix bagged 18 in 1954, lost a shutout in the fifth, when Don Hoak doubled and Bill Mazeroski, who had two of the Buc hits, singled after Bill Virdon's sacrifice fly. That tied it 1-1. The Cards scored in the second on Hal Smith's single after a walk and a single by Walt Moryn, who was 4-for-4 and has hit safely in his last six trips.

Spahn, heading for his 11th season of 20 or more victories, put away No. 16. This was his fifth in a row, and he now has won eight of his last nine decisions. The Giants managed eight hits, one a solo home run by Orlando Cepeda that tied it 2-1 in the sixth, but Spahn walked only two. He struck out the side in the ninth.

Norm Larker, the NL's top hitter, and Duke Snider, coming through with a bang on his "night," backed fine pitching by Roger Craig and Don Drysdale in the Dodger sweep of two from Cincinnati. Larker drove in five runs in the opener, hitting a home run, a double and two singles. He was 0-for-3 in the nightcap, but tops the league at .346.

Homers And Triples
Jay Hook (10-14) was the first game loser, leaving when the Dodgers scored five in the fifth. Craig (5-1) had the Reds shut out on three hits with two out in the ninth, when they scored on a walk and singles by Gordy Coleman and Chico Cardenas.

Snider, after sitting out the opener, backed Drysdale's three-hit effort with a home run and a triple that made him the Dodgers' all-time extra-base hit champ with 767. Drysdale, who had lost three in a row, walked three, struck out six for his 11th victory. Loser Cal McLish (4-10) left with a sore shoulder in the seventh, and the Reds then lost Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson when they collided in the outfield in the eighth.

A three-run homer by Lee Walls and Johnny Callison's out-of-the-park shot did it for the Phils and Robin Roberts (9-12). Bob Anderson (7-8) was the loser.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bob Gill and Charley Fields have moved the Williamsport Grays one notch closer to winning the 1960 Eastern League pennant.

The two were standouts as Williamsport knocked off second place Binghamton 3-2 Friday night to increase the Grays' margin to 10½ games with 14 left to play.

In other action Reading thumped Springfield 8-3 and Lancaster beat Allentown 12-9 in a game played at York, which hopes to field a league team once again in the future.

Clouts 33rd Homer
Gill gave up five hits and struck out seven while Fields' broken bat single drove in the winning run in the eighth inning to break up a 2-2 tie. Fields had figured in one of Williamsport's earlier runs.

Digestion Trials Prove Economical Soybean Oil Meal Is Fine Supplement

By FRANK S. ZETTLER

Studies reported by Cornell researchers indicate that soybean oil meal was found equal to corn distillers' dried grain with solubles as a protein supplement for dairy cows. Both of these supplements resulted in greater milk production than linseed oil meal. The digestion trials showed that the TDN content of linseed meal was significantly lower than that of the other supplements studied. The total digestible nutrient (TDN) content of solvent process, linseed oil meal was considerably under that found in some commonly used feeding table.

FRANK S. ZETTLER

No differences in milk production or weight gain were obtained between old process and solvent process linseed meal. While cows fed linseed meal produced less milk, they gained more body-weight than those receiving soybean meal or corn distillers' dried grains. Perhaps this observation is in agreement with some studies with fattening cattle, in which linseed oil meal has been shown to be equal or sometimes slightly superior to other oil meals. Undoubtedly linseed meal has found favor in fitting rations because of this tendency for somewhat greater gains and its beneficial effect on hair-coat. Research at Iowa State has demonstrated that the "hair-coat" factor is found in linseed meal made by either the old or solvent processes.

The good response by milk cows to soybean oil meal in the Cornell research is in agreement with observations made on Penn State demonstration farms and in hundreds of other Pennsylvania dairy herds. All this should be welcome news to many dairymen who often find soybean oil meal to be one of their most economical sources of protein supplement. Will you be short of pasture in late summer and fall? If so, try fertilizing your bluegrass pastures now with nitrogen. It will take about 50 pounds of nitrogen per acre to do the job.

To supply the nitrogen needed, one of a number of fertilizers may be used. You can use 150 pounds of ammonium nitrate, or 240 pounds of ammonium sulfate, or 110 pounds of urea, or 155 pounds of 32 per cent liquid nitrogen. If you wish to apply phosphorus and potash in addition to the nitrogen, then use a complete fertilizer such as 500 pounds of 10-10-10 or 625 pounds of 8-16-16.

Same Results

Any one of these fertilizers will give you the same results. However, if you have reason to believe that you need all three of the plant nutrients — nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium — use the complete fertilizer.

A complete soil test will tell which is needed for best results. Soil test kits may be obtained from your extension office in the court house.

Agriculture is big business. Sometimes in a highly industrialized area like Pennsylvania we don't realize just how big a business agriculture really is.

Here are some facts dug up by the Agricultural Marketing Service that show just how important this business of farming is to our economy.

Buys More Petroleum

Agriculture each year buys more petroleum products than any other industry; uses more electrical power than Chicago, Detroit, Houston, Baltimore and Boston put together, uses six and one-half million tons of finished steel, uses enough rubber to put tires on some six million cars, uses more than forty million tons of chemical materials.

Farm tractors provide as much horsepower as all the locomotives in the United States. This horsepower turns over or stirs enough soil to build a ridge one hundred feet high and a mile wide all the way from New York to San Francisco.

Farms spend more than 40 billion dollars per year on consumption and production goods. To top it all off, agriculture and its allied industries employ about 40 per cent of the United States working force.

Yes, agriculture is big business. . . much bigger than many people think.

MR. PRESIDENT

by Patrick and Vinmont

GROVER CLEVELAND

Born in Caldwell, New Jersey, March 18, 1837. He grew up in western New York where his family had moved in 1841. As a clerk in a Buffalo lawyer's office he studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1859. At 26 he was appointed assistant district attorney of Erie County and seven years later was elected sheriff.

In 1881 he was elected Mayor of Buffalo and the following year Governor of New York. Nominated the Democratic candidate for President in 1884, he was elected with the help of Republican reform elements.

He was inaugurated the twenty-second President of the United States on March 4, 1885. Proving his stated belief that the President should act with bold independence and selfless courage, he set a new high standard for public life and party leadership. His earnest appeal for tariff reduction caused his defeat in the election of 1888.

Elected President again in 1892, he was inaugurated the twenty-fourth President of the United States on March 4, 1893. Faced with a panic, he forced repeal of the Silver Act and upheld the gold standard almost alone. Denounced by business for his tariff stand and by western farmers for maintaining the gold reserve, he left the White House without a party but is now regarded as one of the most fearless and masterful to hold that office. He died at Princeton, New Jersey on June 24, 1908, aged 71.

THOMAS ANDREWS HENDRICKS

Born near Zanesville, Ohio, 1819. He grew up in Indiana, graduated from Hanover College, studied law for two years and was admitted to the bar in 1845. He practiced law in Indianapolis. He served as a member of the United States House of Representatives, 1851-55, United States Senator, 1863-69, and Governor of Indiana, 1873-77.

As a member of Congress he was a leader in the fight to clear President Johnson in his impeachment trial. He was strongly supported by the Democrats for the Presidential nomination in 1868, in 1872 and 1884. He was the defeated candidate for Vice-President in the election of 1876. Nominated and elected Vice-President of the United States in 1884. Hendricks (pictured above) died in office on November 25, 1885.

Adlai Ewing Stevenson was elected Vice-President of the United States in 1892 and served the four years of Cleveland's second administration. A lawyer by profession, he had served Illinois as a member of the United States House of Representatives from 1875-77 and again 1879-81. Born in Christian County, Kentucky, 1835, he died in 1914.

MRS. GROVER CLEVELAND

President Cleveland came to the White House as a bachelor. In 1886 the President married twenty-two year old Frances Folsom. Frances had known Cleveland, her father's law partner, all her life. Young, beautiful, and gifted with a winsome personality, she soon became known for her delightful ability as a hostess. The toast of America, she made news by her every word and act.

The only First Lady ever to return to the White House after an absence of four years, she was more popular than ever. Her daughter, Esther, was the first child of a President and his wife born in the White House. Eleven years after leaving Washington Mrs. Cleveland became a widow. In 1913, she married Thomas J. Preston, Jr. She died in 1947.

Welk Got His TV Start As A Summer Replacement In 1955

By CHARLES J. LEAVY

When Lawrence Welk and his Champagne Music made their debut on the ABC-TV Network July 2, 1955, it was just as a summer replacement. Audience reaction was so favorable immediately that the show continued and is now on its sixth successful year.

Over 50 million tune Lawrence Welk in coast-to-coast each week. Although he jokingly admits his fan mail is predominantly from "mothers," he receives plaudits by mail from every age group; high school boys and girls, laborers, businessmen and even a Fire Department dispatcher in Brooklyn, are numbered in the cross section of his loyal fans.

This stubborn nature and his industrious care to consider his fans' criticisms have, at times, presented difficult problems for the Champagne King.

His decision to use a number of different Champagne Ladies resulted in an outcry from many inherited many of his father's fine traits, including love of music.

While still a toddling youngster, Lawrence showed interest in his father's old-fashioned accordion which he brought with him from Europe. The instrument is still in the Welk family. During the

Maestro Lawrence Welk and his band

These fans are highly critical and Lawrence Welk accounts in part for the success of the show to his sincere and thorough care in reading each and every fan letter that he receives.

"Good Public Relations"

"I have always firmly believed that by taking care of my television audience, they will take care of me," Lawrence says. "This is a basic principle of good public relations, but it's surprising how many experts in the field don't always practice it, and as a result, go by the way."

Along these lines, another reason that accounts for his success is a stubborn nature. Welk recalls one pre-television meeting with those who suggested the addition of such gimmicks as a line of pretty girls and ballet dancers to add excitement to the show.

Welk listened, characteristically pressed his palms together and said, "Gentlemen, no."

He insisted on presenting simply "music people want to hear."

loyal fans who felt the show would not be the same without Alice Lon. However, Welk weighed the issues and firmly decided to go along with his decision. He does say, however, that if a singer comes along who has all the qualities necessary to fit smoothly into the job, he won't hesitate to go back to a regular Champagne Lady.

"Come to think of it," notes Welk, "if I hadn't been persistent in my youth, Lawrence Welk wouldn't be on television. My folks were strongly opposed to the idea of me going into show business, but that good old Germanic stubbornness was just as strong in me as it was in my parents."

Farmer By Trade

A farmer by trade, musician at heart, Welk's father, an Alsatian immigrant settled on a fertile plot of land near Strasburg, N. D., where he built a simple home and raised a family of four boys and four girls. The next to the youngest boy, christened Lawrence, evenings, when the elder Welk played the instrument for relaxation after the chores, little Lawrence was by his side.

By the time he was 13, Lawrence had learned to play the accordion passably well, without having taken a lesson. But he was talented enough to serve up the music for the community dances and to be featured on church and social programs in the community.

Lawrence's folks eventually saved enough money to buy him a new accordion with a piano keyboard. Lawrence still considers the event one of the most moving moments of his life. The beautiful instrument with sparkling rhinestones proved to be a genuine inspiration to him. He studied ardently and practiced at every spare moment, after working in the fields all day.

Several years later he left the farm and started on the road as an accordion soloist. His showmanship and fine playing soon put him in demand

FOOD FOR THOUGHT
By Marshall Tuckey

The Irish potato, now a food staple in Ireland, is not of Irish origin. Columbus' men took the potato back to Europe. It was then brought into England. The English settlers brought it back to this continent when they settled in Virginia and Sir John Hawkins took it back to Ireland. At first it was used only as a food for cattle, but, during a great grain famine in Ireland, it was the only food available and became the principal food of the poor, becoming known as the Irish potato.
